

LIGHT SENTENCE FOR NEGRO STIRS

Senators Say Ford Should Have Been Given More Than Six Months.

SEVERAL EXPRESS VIEWS

Pointed out by Women Here Need More Protection—Tilman Takes Fling at Republicans.

Displeased at the short sentence of six months in jail imposed by Judge Fugh on James G. Ford, the negro who Wednesday night attacked Miss Edith Howson, of 1211 Massachusetts Avenue Southeast, directly in front of her home, several United States Senators went on record yesterday as favoring a law looking to more severe punishment in such cases.

When arraigned in Police Court yesterday Ford was charged with "simple assault." The maximum penalty that could have been imposed was one year in jail.

"Rather than impose such a mild sentence the judge ought to have planned a rose on that negro and turned him loose," said Senator Williams of Mississippi. "The negro ought to have been taken out in an alley and unmercifully beaten." Senator Miles of Washington, who was attacked by a negro directly in front of the Senator's home, 170 N Street Northwest, said: "The sentence was entirely too light. He should have been given the limit of the law. I will support any bill that will give assailants of women long terms in the penitentiary. The women of Washington certainly need more protection."

Too Much Coddling, Says Tillman.

Senator Benjamin R. Tillman of South Carolina took a fling at the Republican party, saying it was in a measure responsible for such assaults. "The Republicans have in the years gone by coddled and petted the negro until he has gotten to the point where he believes he has the right of way over the white man. What does a negro care about six months in jail? The whites here will have to be educated up to showing their resentment of such assaults to their women. The friends of the young woman attacked by this negro should appeal to President Wilson because of the light sentence imposed."

Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, of Florida, said he thought the sentence entirely too mild. "It ought to be so arranged that a man guilty of attacking a woman should be given a very heavy sentence. The women of Washington need more protection. If the present law fixes the maximum penalty at one year then the law ought to be changed."

ARGENTINA TO PARTICIPATE.

South American Republic Will Join Panama Celebration.

The State Department yesterday received a dispatch from Minister John W. Garrett, at Buenos Ayres, in which it was informed that the invitation extended to the United States government to the Republic of Argentina to send a battleship to Hampton Roads and later to make the Panama pilgrimage has been accepted by that government. The Minister informs the State Department that one of the new dreadnaughts of the Argentine navy, the largest in the naval establishments of the world, will be sent.

WILL "HIKE" TO GREAT FALLS.

Members of Institute of Banking Plan Long Walk for Tomorrow.

Seventy-five members of the local chapter of the American Institute of Banking will participate in the chapter "Hike to Great Falls tomorrow. Dinner will be awaiting the walkers on their arrival at 1 o'clock.

It was announced last night that the first regular meeting of the chapter for the season will be held November 12, and the subject of the lecture for that evening will be "Currency." The speaker will be "The Currency." The lecture will be the "last word" on the currency measure now pending in Congress.

Charles A. Barnard gave the third lecture on contracts at the Institute rooms last night.

MITCHELL WILL HEAR ADVICE OF MURPHY

Mayor-Elect Says He Will Not Fight the Man, but His Organization.

New York, Nov. 6.—Despite Mayor-elect Mitchell's reiteration that he would not determine upon any of his official appointments until after he returns from a three weeks' vacation in the Adirondacks, politicians were busy today speculating upon the new Cabinet.

"Nobody has asked me to appoint any one to office," said Mr. Mitchell. "Anyway, there would be no use for I am not considering the appointments now. There is time enough for that before January. When the time comes I shall listen to all who have advice to give."

When asked if this included Charles F. Murphy, Mr. Mitchell said: "Murphy has anything he wants to say. I wish to say that when I come back I shall begin my fight against Murphy's organization, not Murphy the individual."

RUDOLPH MAY BECOME HEAD OF TRADE BOARD

Former Commissioner's Name Suggested in Event of Declination of Browne and Graham.

ANNUAL MEETING ON MONDAY

Friends of Cuno H. Rudolph will soon begin the campaign for the Board of Trade, whose annual election will be held next Monday, in the event that Alvis R. Browne, first vice president, declines the office because of his health, and E. C. Graham, second vice president, does not accept the nomination.

Advocates of the plan to merge the Board of Trade, Chamber of Commerce, and Retail Merchants' Association are anxious that Mr. Rudolph become a candidate for the presidency of the older body.

It is reported that Mr. Rudolph is not in favor of affiliation. He has qualified for the position of president by serving one year on the board of directors of the Board of Trade. He is not a member of any other commercial organization. Members believe that he would make an ideal president, especially in view of his election as president of the Second National Bank.

The election of a president of the board will be the question of affiliation. The Board of Trade, it is claimed, is the strongest body of its kind in the District. If the other organizations were to be joined to it, there would be assured harmony among all the business men of this city. This is the argument of those in favor of affiliation. Their claim is opposed by those who believe that members of other organizations individually should join the Board of Trade, as it is the most influential.

Edmonton, Alberta, expects to have direct train service by next June to Toronto.

GETTING A START

By NATHANIEL C. FOWLER JR.

How to Get a Job.

EVERY few days I am going to try to tell you not only how to get a job, but what kind of a job to get. But just now, at the start, when you and I are becoming friendly, I am going to make a few general remarks on job getting, presenting some general principles, and then, in a day or two, we will get down to business specifically.

The fundamental way to get a job is to go out and look for it. The job is there waiting for you. If you wait for the job, you and the job will never meet.

Jobs, like opportunities, stay where they belong. They don't move about and they are not particularly cordial. I have never seen a job that stood out in the broad, wide street and asked somebody to come and take it.

The job finds its own business, and stays where it is. It is "up to you" to locate it, but you must do something more than find it. Know where it is, and you won't go any good if you don't walk up to it and get it.

Up to the job, you want it. Up to the job, you want it. Up to the job, you want it. Up to the job, you want it. Up to the job, you want it.

Perhaps there isn't a job for every jobber. Perhaps, at times, what you want isn't within your reach. Very well. Don't wait for the job you want. Take the job you can get, and work while you wait.

It is believed by friends of Harshman he fell from the Pennsylvania Avenue Southeast Bridge.

WASHINGTONIANS HEARD IN THE WATMOUGH CASE

Attempt Made to Show Millionaire Was of Unsound Mind, Owing to Criticisms of President.

Philadelphia, Nov. 6.—James H. Watmough, a member of the Board of Directors of the Washington, today had his first trial in their attempt to break the will of the late Mrs. Watmough, who later became housekeeper for Mr. Watmough. The litigants endeavored to prove that Mr. Watmough was of unsound mind because he criticized President Wilson by calling the Chief Executive a "fool," and because when a friend asked Mr. Watmough how he felt his answer was "I feel like—"

The hearing was adjourned until November 12.

SUPREME COURT HEAD FAILS TO STOP FIGHT

Chief Justice White Attempts to Separate Newby Combatants, but Gives Up Baffled.

Chief Justice White, of the United States Supreme Court, met his Waterloo yesterday at Fourteenth Street and Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest, when he attempted by arguments to check a static battle between two newsmen.

Justice White at first silently enjoyed the fight, but the scrum got so hot and he himself "better stop, boys," he cautioned. "You will get arrested."

Still the two boys fought on, and the Chief Justice turned over in his mind injunctive, mandamus, quo warrant, and other legal checks that might be effective. Finally he recalled that boys will be boys, and turned away, leaving them to fight it out.

The appearance of a policeman made the boys quickly part and seek the nearest places of hiding.

PRESIDENT RECEIVES COLORED DELEGATION

Petition Presented Protesting Against Segregation Policy Alleged to Have Been Ordered by Officials.

REPORT AT MEETING TONIGHT

A delegation of six colored men and one woman yesterday presented to President Wilson a petition, signed by over 10,000 of their race, from forty-eight States, protesting against the segregation policy of the administration.

The delegation, which was introduced to the President by Representative Thacher of Massachusetts, reported that they had been courteously received, that the President had taken the matter under advisement, and that he had stated that the reports in the press of the segregation had been much exaggerated. The conference lasted half an hour.

In their protest to the President the delegation quoted a letter written by Mr. Wilson before election, as follows: "It is my earnest wish to see justice done in every matter, and not more grudging justice, but justice executed with liberality and cordial good feeling. Every principle of our Constitution commands this, and our sympathies should also make it easy."

The petitioners laid stress particularly upon the order of Secretary McAdoo, requiring separate eating tables, and the segregation in the auditoriums of the Postoffice Department, the Navy, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, and elsewhere.

"Necessity," says the petition, "can not be pleaded as an excuse for this affront and injury. Afro-American and other American employees have been working together, eating at the same tables, and using the same lavatories and toilets for two generations."

The delegation was composed of W. Monroe Trotter of Boston; Rev. Dr. Byron Gunner, of Hillburn, N. Y.; president of the league; Dr. William A. Sinclair, of Philadelphia; W. Maurice Spencer, of Delaware; Thomas Walker, of the District of Columbia; F. M. Murray, of Virginia; and Mrs. Ida Wells Barnett, of Chicago.

A mass meeting under the auspices of the National Independent Political League will be held at the Nineteenth Street Baptist Church tonight, when a report will be made.

BAILEY OUT OF POLITICS.

Former Senator Denies Report of Texas Governoratorial Candidacy.

Joseph W. Bailey, former Senator from Texas, yesterday denied a report from Texas that he was contemplating entering the race for Governor of the same State.

"I am out of politics," said Mr. Bailey. "There is not a syllable of truth in the report that I will be a candidate in the Texas Governoratorial race next year."

Senator Bailey has been a law office in Washington and is associated with one of his sons in the practice.
